Prelude To Trial On Tuesday

Eichmann Placed Under Tight Security Measures

JERUSALEM (AP)—An Israeli soldier, rifle in hand, sits in a cubicle behind bullet-proof glass. When his watch ends another armed guard takes his place. So it will be around the clock until Tuesday morning when Adolf Eichmann, for whom the cubicle was built, enters this special courtroom in Jerusalem and his trial begins.

Eichmann was Gestapo chief in charge of Jewish affairs in Nazi Germany during World War II. He will go on trial for "crimes against the Jewish people and crimes against humanity" under a law which carries the death penalty.

The bullet-proof glass cubicle and the armed guards occupying it 24 hours daily visibly illustrate the stringency of security measures the government and police are taking. For the man who is accused of complicity in the slaughter of six million Jews during the war probably would not live long without such protection.

It is impossible to describe the emotions aroused merely by his name in Israel. Nearly every family of Jews from Europe living in Israel lost one or more relatives in Nazi death camps.

Supersensitive Room
Consequently the Beth Ham-am—community center—which has been converted into a huge courtroom resembles a supersensitive military installation.

Soldiers are stationed on the roof. They look down on strong steel fences watching the streets and everyone who enters and leaves.

At the left of the main entrance are 13 cubicles—where a soldier does a thorough job of searching you.

The city, however, appears calm. Only a handful of Israelis watch the center from across the street. It is surrounded by homes and apartments but there are few curious faces in the windows.

Eichmann was brought to a cell in the building this week from the fortress prison near Djalma, a village six miles east of Haifa.

Authorities disclosed he had

H. R. Gaither, Of Defense Report, Dies

BOSTON (AP)—H. Rowan Gaither Jr., 51, author of the controversial Gaither report which was critical of U. S. defense preparedness, died Friday at Massachusetts General Hospital.

Gaither, also a former president of the Ford Foundation, had been a patient of the Lahey Clinic and, doctors said, was aware for some time that he had cancer. Gaither, a Natchez, Miss., native, had been chairman of the board of Rand Corp., leading research organization and had been a consultant of the National Defense Research Commission.

His much discussed report on defense was at the request of President Eisenhower. The Gaither report was a top secret government document which the Washington Post in 1957 said "portrays a United States in the gravest danger in its history... exposed to an almost immediate threat from the missile-bristling Soviet Union."

Although much of the document's contents leaked out, it was never officially made public.

been held at the prison since Israeli agents spirited him out of Argentina last May.

With Eichmann's transfer to Jerusalem, the authorities are taking every precaution to see he reaches that glass cubicle and has full opportunity to tell his story.

May Be Long Trial
There is every indication it will be a long trial. Some authorities estimate it may last six months. Although every word spoken will be translated simultaneously

'Molly', Of Fibber McGee Fame, Dies

ENCINO, Calif. (AP)—Marian Jordan, who spent 25 years in show business trying to straighten out a man whose mind was as cluttered as his closet, died of cancer Friday. She was Molly of the famed radio team of Fibber McGee and Molly.

Jim Jordan, her husband in reality as well as on radio, was at her bedside when she succumbed at their ranch home in this Los Angeles suburb. She would have been 63 April 15. Doctors discovered a year ago she had an ovarian tumor.

Her death dissolved perhaps the most successful man-and-wife team in radio history. They had been happily married 43 years.

Molly spent a good part of the program impersonating McGee on her sharp, dry wit. Her most remembered line was a deflating rebuke: "Tain't funny, McGee."

Usually it was.

Held Two Voices
Marian actually contributed two voices to the show. She did a magnificent impersonation of the "little girl next door" who repeatedly confounded McGee with those childish questions adults can't answer.

The Jordans met in a church choir at Peoria, Ill., and married in 1918. They called it a case of love at first sight.

They gave vaudeville a whirl without much luck. In 1931 they met Don Quinn, a struggling radio writer. The three of them got together on a Monday-through-Friday radio se-

Burns Prove Fatal To Child

Davlin At Work
HARRISBURG (AP)—State Commerce Secretary William R. Davlin, who had been in a hospital since February for cancer treatments, returned to work at the state Capitol here yesterday. "I feel good. I surely do," Davlin said after his first day in the office.

Good Morning!

It's not who you are or what you know that makes a good executive — it's what you do.

Macmillan Seeks Unity In Defense

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Great Britain proposed Friday night a new Western unity in nuclear defense and economic development to strengthen free world ties.

He said "The health of our whole NATO alliance depends on finding a way of building a partnership in the nuclear as well as conventional field" of mutual defense.

Macmillan said that would win the West a double prize: "The prevention of an uncontrolled extension of nuclear manufacture and... the sense of real unity which would follow a new agreement with our old allies."

Macmillan said the West doesn't get credit for much of its aid to underdeveloped nations because it goes through such agencies as the World Bank and the International Development Association.

These are within the framework of the United Nations but are boycotted by the Communist countries, he said.

"I do not see why we should be content to hide our light under this bushel," Macmillan said. "That is why I welcome our new... and clearly free world machinery."

Macmillan and U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk both spoke at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology centennial observance. More than 150 leaders in science, the humanities and politics from all over the world are attending.

Rusk said America is "involved in a long-term engagement in foreign assistance... because we are committed to shaping the course of events which will determine our future."

Unemployment Claims Increase

HARRISBURG (AP)—A slight increase in the number of new unemployment compensation claims was recorded last week while continued claims dropped off, the Bureau of Employment Security said yesterday.

New claims increased from 35,294 to 36,710 during the week of March 31. The bureau said the increase resulted from temporary and indefinite layoffs in hit-and-run mining, textiles, primary metals and seasonal layoffs in food processing and apparel.

Pass Up Attacks On Dag

Reds Ease Off Demand That U.N. Quit Congo

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union backed away Friday from its previous formal demand that the United Nations end its Congo operations within a month.

The Russians also passed up a chance to call again for dismissal of U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld, who challenged the U.N. General Assembly Wednesday to vote for his ouster if that was what the members wanted.

Neither idea was contained in a new Congo resolution that the Soviet delegation put before the 99-nation assembly. Both had been rejected in the Security Council Feb. 21, when a Soviet resolution wound up on the short end of an 8-1 vote.

Diplomats had the impression that the Soviet Union left them out for fear they would be rejected also in the assembly. They did not think the Russians had permanently dropped their campaign either against Hammarskjöld or the U.N. operations in the Congo, which bar unilateral intervention there.

The new resolution called for a meeting of the Congolese Parliament within 21 days under U.N. protection to insure the Congo's territorial integrity and political independence.

Congolese President Joseph Kasavubu has refused to reconvene Parliament ever since it tried to override his ouster of Premier Patrice Lumumba last September. Hammarskjöld, noting repeated

Laotian King Has Peace Bid

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—King Savang Vatthana was reported Friday using a firm hand to bring Laos' warring factions to the peace table, probably April 28 at the state funeral for his father. One step was said to be a royal veto of a government proposal to ask for intervention by the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

Sources close to the monarch said he hopes to get the contending sides together when the funeral of King Sisavang Vong is held in the royal capital of Luang Prabang. He is said to be willing to let Moscow-backed Prince Souvanna Phouma returned as premier.

As a British-Soviet call for a cease-fire was awaited in this administrative capital, the maneuvering of Communist Pathet Lao rebels and the royal army continued.

More Red Planes

Four Soviet transport planes dropped Pathet Lao paratroopers Thursday near royal army headquarters at Vang Vieng, 80 miles north of Vientiane, said the acting information minister, Tao Sopsaisana. He said he did not know how many were dropped but the operation apparently was to counter an airdrop of royal troops into the area Wednesday, an operation that was reported to take the steam out of the rebel push on Vang Vieng.

Before the latest airdrop, the royal army reported it had pushed 20 miles north of Vang Vieng without opposition in a drive to clear the highway between Vientiane and Luang Prabang, 140 miles to the north.

Both sides were apparently trying to consolidate and gain new ground before a cease-fire freezes them to their positions.

Sources close to the king said he personally vetoed a week ago a step that might have touched off major hostilities over Laos. The foreign ministers of SEATO had just finished meeting in neighboring Bangkok, Thailand, and adopted a resolution to take appropriate action in Laos if necessary.

Overrules Proposal

But the king was reported personally to have overruled a proposal by Premier Boun Oum's government to ask help from SEATO against the Pathet Lao. An informant said the king feared such a step would bring massive intervention from Red China and the Soviet Union.

Instead, he backed Britain's call for a cease-fire, to be followed by a 14-nation peace conference, and embarked on a plan to use the funeral of his father to bring the contending sides together.

King Sisavang died in 1959. As is the custom in Laos, the body was preserved for a state funeral later. Informants said the funeral might bring together Prince Souvanna, who fled into exile when forces loyal to Boun Oum seized Vientiane; Souvanna's half-brother, Prince Souphanouvong, leader of the Pathet Lao; Boun Oum and his defense minister and military strong man, Gen. Phoumi Nosavan.

Over Differences

Congo Leaders To Hold Talks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Congolese political and military leaders from the rival regimes of Leopoldville and Stanleyville will meet Sunday to negotiate on their differences. The announcement Friday, pointing to a possible over-all Congo settlement, followed a conciliatory gesture by the Leopoldville government in lifting a 4-month-old blockade of two provinces controlled by the Stanleyville government—Oriental and Kivu.

The Stanleyville government is headed by Antoine Gizenga who claims, as political heir of the slain ex-Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba, to head the central government. The Gizenga regime is supported by the Soviet bloc and some African nations.

The Leopoldville government is headed by President Joseph Kasavubu, who is recognized by the United States.

At the United Nations in New York the Soviet Union backed off from its previous formal demand that the United Nations quit the Congo within a month.

At the Katanga Province capital of Elisabethville, where U.N. personnel and the government of President Moise Tshombe have been in angry conflict, a U.N. spokesman said some city traders are supplying the United Nations with fresh foodstuffs again. But, he added, "a partial boycott still seems to be operating."

The boycott was ordered by Tshombe as part of his demand for a "general sabotage" against the United Nations whose troops he objects to being stationed in Katanga.

The Leopoldville government's decision to lift its blockade of the Stanleyville regime may have

'Axis Sally' To Be Freed On July 10

WASHINGTON (AP)—"Axis Sally," an aging traitor who turned to religion in prison, soon will be paroled.

The U. S. Parole Board announced Friday that white-haired Mildred Elizabeth Gillars, 60, will be freed July 10 from the Federal Women's Reformatory at Alderson, W. Va. She will have completed 12 years of a 10- to 30-year treason sentence imposed in 1949 for serving Nazi Germany as a singing radio propagandist during World War II. She has arranged to work in a convent which was not identified.

In announcing the parole, authorities said the singer at Alderson "has improved herself, especially in the areas of music and religion."

Few of the thousands of U.S. soldiers who heard her nightly efforts to sow sedition and homesickness ever knew her real name. But they gave her the one that stuck—"Axis Sally."

Born Mildred E. Sisk in Portland, Maine, she went to Dresden, Germany, several years before the war to study music. She changed her name to Gillars and became a star of German radio. The Nazis used her moderately pleasing voice in special broadcasts to the American troops.

After the war, she was sentenced to 30 years in prison for treason. She was paroled in 1955.

Since Lumumba was slain early this year, the Soviet Union has recognized his vice premier, Antoine Gizenga, as head of what it calls "the central government of Congo" in Stanleyville.

Some observers believe that if Parliament should meet again now, it would favor Gizenga over Joseph Ileo, whom Kasavubu has appointed premier and who claims to head "the central government of the Congo."

Mishap Occurs During Training

GRANTS, N.M. (AP)—A missile-firing F100 fighter plane accidentally shot down a B52 jet bomber Friday over Western New Mexico. The Air Force said three men parachuted from the bomber.

The three men were spotted by helicopter and were being flown to an Albuquerque hospital.

The Air Force, meanwhile, said eight men were aboard the bomber when it was struck by a Sidewinder missile during a training mission with a New Mexico Air National Guard F100.

The wreckage of the bomber was discovered about 15 miles northeast of Mt. Taylor Peak, an 11,389-foot landmark in west central New Mexico.

Five Men Missing

The three survivors were found about 2 1/2 miles northeast of the peak, where they had landed after parachuting from the stricken aircraft.

The fate of the other five men was not known.

Men on horseback were on the way to the crash scene along with men on tractors. There are roads in the general area but they are impassable this time of year. A late spring storm had swept through the area today, with snow and rain.

The Air Force had two helicopters flying over the area with three C-47 transports and massive ground support.

The crash of the B52 turned a mock aerial duel high over New Mexico into tragic reality shortly after noon today as a New Mexico Air National Guard F100 accidentally fired a Sidewinder missile into the bomber.

The accident occurred as the fighter pilot from the 188th Interceptor Squadron of the New Mexico Air National Guard worked with the bomber crew on what the Air Force called "an authorized intercept mission."

The fighter had made five training passes at the B52. Then, on the sixth pass the deadly Sidewinder somehow was actually released. The heat-seeking missile steered accurately into the bomber's motors.

Isolated Country

The two aircraft reportedly were operating at 35,000 feet when the B52 was hit.

The crash site is in isolated country, in the shadow of 11,389-foot Mt. Taylor. A snowstorm had swept across northern New Mexico's mountains during the morning and the weather conditions hampered searches in their attempt to locate the downed bomber.

Biggs Air Force Base spokesman in El Paso, Tex., where the B52 was based with the 96th Bomb Wing, said the B52 normally carries a crew of six. However, there was a report eight men were aboard the craft Friday.

Biggs officials said the B52 was on a training mission and was not carrying any weapons.

Spokesmen at Kirtland Air Force Base, where the F100 was based, said the two jet aircraft

Nazareth Girl Gets Suspended Term In Forgery

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cecilia Karika, 27, Washington, convicted of forging endorsement on six refund checks to bill Pan American Airways of $7,197, was sentenced Friday to 6 to 18 months in prison.

A codefendant, Joanne D. Cogan, 26, Nazareth, Pa., who pleaded guilty to forgery and testified against Miss Karika, received a suspended 5- to 15 months sentence.

The government charged that the two women, who worked for a now-defunct travel agency, plotted to forge cancelled plane tickets to Rome for six fictitious passengers and then cash the refund checks. A jury acquitted Miss Karika of forging the tickets through which the refund checks were obtained.

Promote Pair Of State Aides

HARRISBURG (AP)—Two members of Gov. Lawrence's personal staff were promoted.

Roy A. Schafer, 35, the governor's legislative secretary since 1959, was promoted to secretary to the governor, replacing Otis B. Morse IV, who was elected state Democratic chairman. His salary will be $15,000 a year.

Isabelle M. Allias, assistant to Walter Glesley, the governor's executive secretary, was promoted to executive assistant in the governor's office. She will receive $10,450 a year in her new job.

were working together as a team on practice maneuvers.

"Something happened," a Kirtland spokesman said. There was no immediate information as to how the Sidewinder could have been accidentally released. The name of the fighter pilot was not disclosed.

Word that the B52 had crashed came about 12:20 p.m. (MST). The Sidewinder, named after a species of rattlesnake, is a heat-seeking missile which steers itself toward a target, using infrared radiation from an aircraft engine as guidance.

In Washington the accident, which occurred despite elaborate safety precautions, Air Force headquarters said.

Headquarters reported that the pilot of the jet fighter had completed a whole series of safety checks designed to prevent accidental launching of the missile before he headed in toward the B52.

A statement issued by USAF headquarters said: "Our nation's interceptors must be combat-ready. They must train under as realistic combat conditions as possible to be ready."

Further Notes
"In furtherance of this, Air Defense Command and Air National Guard aircraft under ADC control, armed with live conventional weapons are frequently 'scrambled' from alert conditions to practice intercepts of other military aircraft."

"This particular training mission, however, was not a scramble. The pilots—of two Air National Guard planes which made the intercept—were briefed this morning for an 11 a.m. takeoff."

"Many safety devices in the interceptors must be activated before such weapons can be fired. 'In this instance these safety checks were made prior to the intercept."

"The investigation in New Mexico has not determined as yet the cause of the accidental firing of the Sidewinder on the F100."

Santa Maria Ship Is Late In Arriving

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—The Portuguese cruise ship Santa Maria, foiled by rebels on her last attempt to make port here, was late again Friday.

The Santa Maria docked more than five hours after her scheduled arrival time.

A spokesman for the ship's agents, Shaw Bros., said she was delayed by a jam in the harbor at La Guaira, Venezuela.

The Santa Maria originally was scheduled to dock here Jan. 23 but one day earlier, 100 miles out of Curacao in the Dutch West Indies, a band of Portuguese rebels produced weapons and seized the ship.

Capt. Henrique Galvao, leader of the rebels, announced by radio that he had taken command of the vessel as the first step in a revolution against the government of Portuguese dictator Antonio Salazar.

Ten days later, after leading U. S. and British destroyers a chase, Galvao docked the Santa Maria at Recife, Brazil. Galvao and his men were marched off and the Santa Maria was returned to her owners.

She has been in drydock for repairs and cleaning. On the current cruise, a spokesman said, the Santa Maria carried 951 passengers. The same skipper, Capt. Mario S. Maia, is in command.

Today's Lesson: Source Of True Wisdom

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

"To know wisdom and instruction; to perceive the words of understanding; To receive the instruction of wisdom, justice, and judgment, and equity; to give subtilty to the simple, to the young man knowledge and discretion. A wise man will hear, and will increase learning; and a man of understanding shall attain unto wise counsels."—Proverbs 1:2-5.

"Where then cometh wisdom and where is the place of understanding? God understandeth the way thereof, and He knoweth the place thereof. For He looketh to the ends of the earth, and seeth under the whole heaven; To make the weight for the winds; and He weigheth the waters by measure."—Job 28:20-25.

Now we turn to the New Testament, to the epistle of James. He was "a servant of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ, to the 12 tribes which were scattered abroad, greeting."

"My brethren," he said, "count it all joy when ye fall into divers temptations; Knowing this, that the trying of your faith worketh patience. But let patience have her perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing."—James 1:1-4.

"If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God. That giveth to all men liberally. . . . But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering. For he that wavereth is like a wave of the sea driven with the wind and tossed."—James 1:5-6.

Jewish Festival Listed

ISRAEL'S Independence Day is computed by the Hebrew Calendar, as are all Jewish festivals. Thus the 5th of Iyar, the date on which we achieved our independence in 1948 and which in that year fell on March 15, this year falls on April 20.

Jewish boys at thirteen celebrate their Bar Mitzvah, which symbolizes their attainment of manhood and their readiness to take upon themselves the responsibility of adults.

Although we as a state have had to bear this responsibility from the date of our rebirth thirteen years ago, we still believe that our Thirteenth Anniversary is of special significance.

In conjunction with this anniversary, we have just published the new edition of Facts About Israel 1961, copy of which I am taking much pleasure in enclosing herewith. Please do not hesitate to apply to us or our offices throughout the country for further information.

Yours sincerely,

Only One Human Being Will Be In The Dock

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

ONLY one human being will be in the dock. But in the eyes of many religious leaders, so will humanity.

They see the trial of Adolf Eichmann, scheduled to begin next week in Israel, as pointing up a stark and universal moral lesson: The evil residing in the depth of human nature.

The facts brought out "will have a cathartic effect upon the conscience of mankind," says theologian Reinhold Niebuhr, of Union Seminary.

"It will remind the whole world of a chapter in German and also in human history that we would all like to forget."

On that general point, psychiatrist Karl Menninger recently spoke of a widespread American "tendency to deny evil, to deny its presence in ourselves."

Although it is Eichmann who stands accused as the Nazi slaughterer of millions of Jews, some religious spokesmen say the guilt was not his alone, nor wholly that of the Nazis.

"Adolf Eichmann is a symbol of Christian failure," says the Rev. Donald W. McKinney of Brooklyn. Other countries merely "waited and watched" as Hitler began his anti-Semitic program in the 1930s, the Rev. Mr. McKinney says.

"If only by its silence, the rest of the world gave its permission," he added. "It didn't care."

The American Jewish Committee, in a comprehensive analysis of the Eichmann case, says it "should make us confront . . . the meaning of hatred and totalitarianism, our own relations to these evils, and their continued presence in our modern world."

The study notes that in World War II the Nazis, through Eichmann and others, offered to trade Jewish lives for supplies and other military advantages, but these "offers were rejected."

What is home? A blend of memories and mortar . . . walls and roof and smells of breakfast cooking . . . a place of rest at the end of the day . . . a feeling of possession, of belonging . . . a place of hates, loves, anger . . . center of things living.

Home may be a mansion on a hill, a cramped apartment, a farmhouse, a hovel, a new suburban split-level, the house Father built . . . but only to you and your family is it home. No one else may call it that. For home is a part of you!

Centuries ago a shepherd-poet felt this. Weary, lonely seasons on the grazing slopes had taught him to love . . . to long for . . . HOME.

But he realized that, through this life and beyond, the nearness of God is part of the sense of home. Goodness and mercy would follow him all the days of his life. And he would dwell in the house of the Lord forever!

Give the Church and its Truth a place in your home. And God's presence will give eternal meaning to that home.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

New 230-Acre Tract Of Land Being Developed In Tunkhannock

LONG POND — A 230-acre tract of land, carefully planned to meet the most exacting needs of the home owner, is being developed one mile east of here in Tunkhannock Township.

Details of the development were disclosed yesterday by a spokesman for Penn-Jersey Engineering Co., of Portland, one of the two established firms which are collaborating in the project.

F. H. Vahlsing Jr., Inc., of 125 Warren St., New York City, are the owners of record. The Vahlsing firm's far-flung operations include produce growing and distribution, fertilizer and chemical plants and construction work.

To be known as Keystone Summit, the development takes its name from the fact that it is located astride the yet-to-be-built Keystone Shortway, five miles west of the Crescent Lake interchange, and also that it is "high in the Poconos," some 2,000 feet above sea level.

Among its advantages are its dry climate and its location in a region that has never been commercialized.

The 100-lot tract, part of a large acreage formerly owned by Russell Altomose, is bordered on the northwest by Leg. Route 45,040, the blacktop road Route 940.

Sub-divided — The land is sub-divided into two separate developments — one of 40 acres lying just north of the Shortway and one of 190 acres south of the Shortway.

A map of the development was filed this week with Mrs. Jeanette Batory, Monroe County register and recorder. It shows two large man-made lakes on the eastern edge of the tract. The lakes, 10 and 15 acres in size, will be fed by Tunkhannock Creek.

Most of the 100 building lots will measure 200 x 217.6 feet, or one acre, and each lot will have a frontage on two streets.

The owners of record, a large New York corporation with substantial business connections in several states, report that they have adequate resources of their own to finance and develop the property on an orderly and permanent basis.

Rigid restrictions as to land use, type and location of construction, and regulations as to facilities used in common by the residents will be written into the deeds when the lots are sold, the owners emphasized.

An unusual phase of the development, one that might set a pattern for similar proceedings elsewhere in the county and state, has been the close cooperation between the owners and the State Highway Department.

The former collaborated with the department's location engineer assigned to the Shortway project and the tract was laid out so that it will not encroach in any way on the new limited access highway.

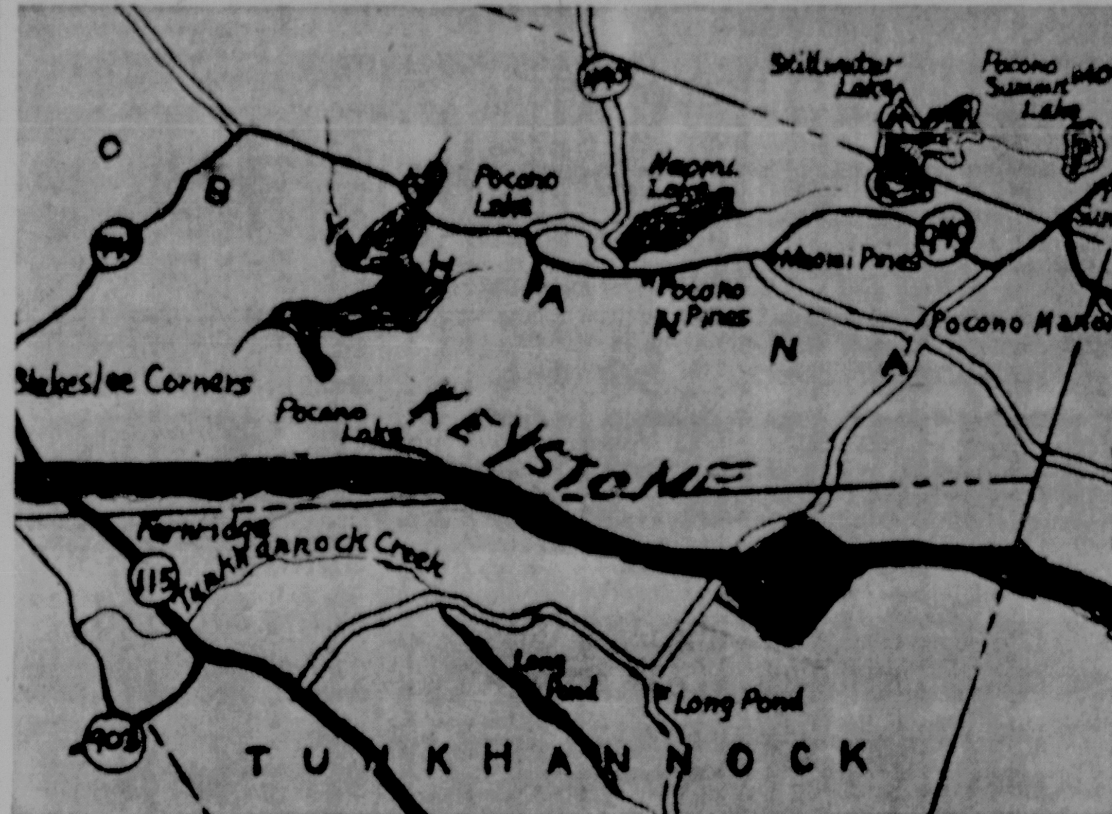

Welcome Gesture — The department welcomed the gesture to cooperate since it will result in a considerable reduction in the cost of acquiring a right-of-way for the four-lane Shortway. The savings would not have been possible if the land had been laid out as a development first and then a part of it sold for the right-of-way.

The owners said they had no place to go for planning and guidance, due to the lack of a planning commission in both the county and the township.

They said they used their own ideas and called upon their experiences elsewhere to develop a community plan which will maintain and even enhance the scenic beauty of the area. The results, they believe, will prove of mutual benefit to the state, the developers and those who buy the lots.

The Board of Supervisors of Tunkhannock Township met Wednesday night and approved the plans for the development with the provision that "the owner uses six-inch stone or shale base on all streets." The supervisors are Leon Keiper, Clayton Eckley and Samuel Smith.

Owners Agree — The owners agreed to pave all streets 20 feet wide on a compacted stone or shale base six inches in depth. The streets are

NEW SITE OF PROJECT—A development project which will take in 230 acres (blocked space) in Tunkhannock Twp. will be situated along the Keystone Shortway shown in map above.

Runaways Back With Parents

TWO STROUDSBURG area runaways — one 16 and the other 17 — were returned to custody of their parents yesterday. They will face Carbon County Juvenile Court action at a future date.

The pair were arrested by Lehigh Valley police late Thursday in the Lehigh Valley Railroad Station there.

Lehigh Valley Councilman Charles Moser said he received a telephone call from a resident in the area of the station. When he went to the station, Moser said, he found a window broken and notified Patrolman John Brewster.

Brewster crawled through the window and found the youths hiding beneath a bench in the waiting room. They said they were cold.

The pair was expelled from Stroud Union High School Thursday morning for exploding a firecracker in a classroom. Police said nothing was missing from the station.

Exchange Club Meets

THE East Stroudsburg Exchange Club will meet Monday at 6:30 p.m. in the Methodist Church, S. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg.

Henry Evans, chairman of the Conservation Committee, will be in charge of this meeting. In conjunction with the program, John H. Doehling, district game warden, will show a film on "Conservation." A question and answer program will follow the showing.

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

Friday night fog is the time when I welcome news about other people. Therefore the invitation from Lehigh University to an exhibition by Soloway, Strauser, and Taussig which opens on Sunday afternoon from 2 to 5 sounded welcome.

I don't know Soloway or Taussig, but we all know Strauser, particularly the Junior Woman's Club who had him as their speaker this week. There will be a tea and reception in honor of the artists on opening day and the exhibition in the University Art Gallery will continue through April 30.

Then, of course, there are all these meals the Monroe County Garden Club members are planning. How fortunate, I was thinking, that they'll soon be working in their gardens to work off the excess weight.

But when they're going to find time to get their gardens in, is a mystery, since they are going to be hosts to the whole district, and then are putting on a banquet for the whole nation of gardeners.

It's an amazing thing but whatever the organization, our people seem to rise to the top in state and national circles like cream to the top of the milk—old fashioned unpasteurized, un-homogenized milk, that is.

Service clubs, women's clubs, lodges, auxiliaries—you name it and I'll tell you somebody they've drafted for higher service.

Of course, I always knew you were smarter, more organized, more executive and more willing than people in other places, but how come strangers recognize it, too?

There are times, I'll admit, when I wish you were a little less organized and executive and willing, when I get tired just trying to follow you, even mentally. Particularly on a Friday night. Come Monday, though, and I'm glad you're you.

BPW Clubs Of District In Conference

LeRoy E. Bugbe, head of the social studies department at Wyoming Seminary, Kingston, will be the feature speaker at the banquet of District 8, Business and Professional Women's Clubs to be held Saturday night at 6 at the Eagles Club in Berwick.

Author of two books on local history he will speak on current events. Registration will begin at 11 and 3:30, and workshops at 2. Reports will be given by all clubs in the district including the Stroudsburg club.

Grange Studies Urban-Rural Development

Serling — A continued discussion of rural-urban development was led by Mrs. Glenn Gilpin during the meeting of Community Grange 2056 at the grange hall at which Mrs. Myron Moore presided.

The unit planned a game party for April 15 at 8:30 p.m. at the hall. The public is invited to this fund-raising event.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by Harry and Dora Parrish and Myron and Ruth Moore. The next refreshment committee will be Jack and Rachel Frick and Franklin and Edna Fitz.

Marks Birthday

Mrs. Barbara Possinger celebrated her birthday on April 9. She is the former Barbara Kresge and wife of Paul Possinger Jr. They have two children, Paul Louis and Thomas Allen, and live at 124 Bridge St., Stroudsburg.

Scout Paper Drive

Tannersville — Troop 85, Tannersville, will conduct a paper drive on Wednesday and Thursday nights in the Scotrur. Readers, Bartonsville and Tannersville areas.

ITU Aux. Wed.

The Int. Typographical Union Aux. will meet Wednesday night at 7:45 at the CLU Club in East Stroudsburg. Hostesses will be Smith, Steele, Seivson and Spring.

Fresh mushrooms do not need peeling! Just wipe with a damp cloth. To slice prettily, cut through both cap and stem.

Don't overhear a sauce made with neutral cheddar cheese; too much heat may produce a curdled look or stringiness.

PRETENDING like a petunia, a sparrow takes refuge in a flower box. What with April showers, March winds and Winter temperatures he's as weary of winter as the rest of us and just as pessimistic about anything else coming up ever. (Staff Photo by MacLeod)

Local Gardeners Involved In Four Coming Events

A salad bowl luncheon for April and the annual luncheon in June plus district and national conferences were discussed by the executive board of the Monroe County Garden Club at their meeting on Thursday at the YMCA.

Students Study Homes and Their Furnishings

Studying homes and their furnishings, members of the general home economics classes of Stroud Union High School are preparing for the homes they will some time make.

The housing unit under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. William Pipher, began with a study of architectural styles for homes.

In conjunction with their study of furniture and its periods, they visited the Ducklow Brothers showrooms in Portland and were taken on a tour of the factory by Norman Ducklow to watch the finishing process.

In their study of table service they concentrated on cost analysis, coordination of design, and good taste in the selection of dinnerware, flatware and glassware.

Mrs. Harrison Taylor, of Evans the Florist, spoke to the classes on "Using Good Taste in Decorating with Artificial Flowers." Artificial flowers are best used in difficult locations or places in the home where there is no sunlight, she said.

In order to make the arrangements look real, good imitations of flowers in season at the time should be selected and they should be changed frequently to avoid their becoming boring, she warned.

Making an arrangement, she illustrated how to cut and bend artificial flowers to make them look more realistic and demonstrated the basic principles of design.

Each of the students will enter a national table-setting contest, applying the principles they have learned in the unit.

The Wyckoff Shopper

Two twenty five West Eighty Sixth Street, New York, is an apartment building, and when its elevator stops at the fifth floor you find yourself facing the doorway of Dr. Bernhard Gottlieb, an eminent psychiatrist, and his wife, Sophie, a psychologist. I have not had the pleasure of meeting the doctor's wife, but I found him a most delightful person . . . round of face, with bright brown eyes, graying hair, a soft voice, and a cordial smile. One ordinarily pays a minimum of $5.00 for a comparatively short period of pouring forth her troubles on Dr. Gottlieb's shoulders. I was fortunate . . . my interview had been arranged by the Bobbs-Merrill publicity department, Bobbs-Merrill being publishers of his last two books, "What a Boy Should Know About Sex" and "What a Girl Should Know About Sex."

I was led into Dr. Gottlieb's office after a brief sojourn in his living room, where I had an opportunity to see the paintings and other art objects which indicate that the Gottliebs know and enjoy the finer things of life. There were water colors of a realistic nature . . . there were very modern paintings in glowing colors by a contemporary artist. There were interesting arrangements of playing cards and mother of pearl that fascinated me, but which I had no time to study, as I was escorted into the sanctum where troubled minds come to Dr. Gottlieb in search of peace, reassurance, and self-understanding.

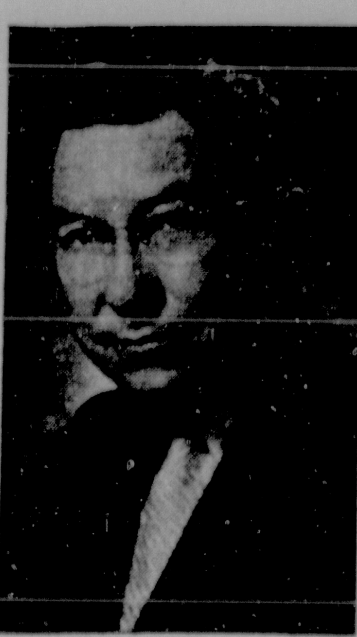

Never having been in a psychiatrist's office, I anticipated very little except the traditional couch which, in this case, shows signs of much usage. There was a huge, handsome desk . . . more art objects . . . draperies of an interesting sculptured print covering a wide window . . . and one wall banked with books. I had forgotten . . . or maybe not even known . . . that an accredited psychiatrist must first be a medical doctor. Dr. Gottlieb's educational background is an impressive one.

As he talks he can recount an endless number of hypothetical cases involving men and women, boys and girls, of all ages and stations. He remembers the little teen ager, tough as they come, with a dagger strapped to her leg beneath the skirt. He recalls the "glad girls" who live it up on the fringes of society. And there are countless others in between . . . people whose lives by and large are not sensational, but whose minds are troubled, or very very sick.

After talking with him, I am amazed that he can still be so cheerful and wholesome. I also find myself wishing I had talked with him years ago . . . before I planned my life . . . before I married . . . before my children were born. I am sure a few hours of his time at any of the important stages of my life would have made me a wiser, more capable, and more understanding person. When I began discussing a few of my questions as a mother, he very kindly autographed for me a copy of his earliest book, "Understanding Your Adolescent."

Already it is proving very enlightening. For my daughter he autographed a copy of "What a Girl Should Know About Sex," with the advice that can be permitted to read it in its entirety now at thirteen. Sex, he feels, should be taught in the schools, but only to groups of boys and girls separately, and individual conferences for girls should follow with a trained psychiatrist. He feels that in these matters boys should receive further guidance from their Dads; girls from their mothers — never the other way around.

My interview with Dr. Gottlieb will be presented on our Wyckoff radio program Wednesday of next week. I especially urge parents to listen. Prior to its presentation, I invited Mrs. Wyckoff, whom I respect both as a woman and a parent, to hear the interview and pass judgment upon it. Not one word has been edited, and she has approved it. She has also told me a delightful story about her friendship some years ago with a woman named Margaret Slattery, a psychologist, I believe, in the Massachusetts schools. Dr. Slattery's advice to the parent of an adolescent was this: "Hold on to the leash . . . but don't forget to lengthen it." I am sure Dr. Gottlieb would agree.

Russia Operating In Laos

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Russia now has a fleet of 16 cargo planes and 10 helicopters operating in Laos.

They are transporting North Viet Nam troops and supplies from bases in North Viet Nam to counteract this Soviet-supported military buildup in Laos, the U.S. has increased its airlifting there. In addition to transporting troops and supplies, the U.S. is also providing pilots for a number of C-47 cargo planes and helicopters.

That is what President Kennedy has told Prime Minister Macmillan in their talks.

The President has also stressed the importance of the problem of the composition of a neutral Laos government if that is agreed on. He has told Macmillan he is opposed to allowing Communists to participate in such a government.

"Should the executive branch of the Laos government consist principally of members of Pathet Lao, as Russia is demanding," said the President, "it will be only a matter of months before the entire government will be taken over by them. I will never enter into an agreement that would lead to such a situation."

Goldberg Cites Economy Aim

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg said yesterday the economy must spend 10.5 million new jobs next year for the country to achieve full employment.

Even if the current economic improvement continues, he said, the United States will be left with a grave unemployment problem.

"We have a great challenge as a country to meet this great problem," Goldberg told a news conference.

Remington Asks For Documents

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Remington Rand Co. yesterday asked the U.S. district court to return to the firm all documents used by federal grand juries in the recent investigation of price fixing by electrical equipment manufacturers.

Remington Rand also asked the court to restrain the government from disclosing contents of subpoenas issued by the juries. The state of California and the City of Philadelphia, among others, have filed petitions with the court to obtain the documents.

Ragged But Safe From Traffic

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — Ragged but safe for motor traffic. That was the way Mayor Thomas J. Monaghan described Water Street Friday as he called off a threatened blockade of a Pennsylvania Railroad freight line.

The mayor threatened last week to halt PRR traffic on the street unless the railroad patched up potholes on its right-of-way.

The PRR said it had not been pestered by the mayor's statement, and its repair work was routine.

'Prof' Asks Public To Get His Goat

PROFESSOR Joseph Brennan of East Stroudsburg State's speech department is looking for a goat to play Lady Astor in the college's production of "Teahouse of the August Moon."

"Teahouse" has been in rehearsal now for over a month and Brennan's original job-description request for a "white, well-mannered nanny goat; with intelligent eyes," has been changed, from desperation, to "Wanted: a fairly well housebroken goat." Still, no applicants.

Politicians Fire Volleys

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Democrat cried "political guerrilla warfare," but Republican leaders continued to warn yesterday against a coalition government in Laos.

The GOP leaders, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, of Illinois and Rep. Charles A. Halleck, of Indiana, made their indirect attacks on U. S. policy in Laos at their weekly news conference. They said a coalition government eventually would become a Communist government.

Dirksen and Halleck stressed they did not want to embarrass President Kennedy while he was negotiating with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain.

Then, however, Dirksen and Halleck went on to announce they were distressed by roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman's statement that Laos would have to have a coalition government to become neutral.

What's catching your eye more and more in daily newspaper ads?

ONE OF A SERIES
ANSWER: COLOR! One of the most exciting developments in the newspaper business is the rapidly increasing availability and use of Run-Of-Paper color. In the United States and Canada there are now over 925 daily newspapers with more than 46 million circulation offering ROP color to advertisers. And more and more advertisers are taking advantage of this new dimension of newspaper advertising. Color is catching — and it is catching more and more eyes in the daily newspaper.

Rosburg Four Shots Back

Arnie, Player Share Lead In Masters After 36-Holes

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Arnold Palmer, the big man from Pennsylvania, and Gary Player, a little man from South Africa, waged a tremendous struggle over the Augusta National golf course today and came out even.

After 36 holes of the 25th Masters Championship, they tied for the lead with scores of 137—seven under par for the aggravating 6,980-yard, par 36-72 layout. Palmer of Ligonier, Pa., did it with rounds of 68-69, barely missing a 15-foot putt on the 18th green that would have given him the lead.

Player, of Johannesburg, picked up a stroke Friday by holding a tremendous 40-footer at the same hole for rounds of 69-68.

Rosburg Trails

Four strokes behind these two—the top money winners of the pro golf circuit this year—came bespectacled Bob Rosburg, Portland, Ore., who shared the lead with Palmer after the first round. Rosburg shot a one-over par 73 Friday.

Don January matched Player's 68 for the best round of the day and moved into fourth place at 142.

Ken Venturi, who twice has finished second in the Masters, finished with a 71 for 143 and did 49-year-old Byron Nelson, a two-time Masters champion; Tommy Bolt, Lionel Hebert, Ted Kroil, Walter Burkemo and Charlie Coe.

Jack Nicklaus, the young amateur who shot a 70 Thursday, finished with 75 Friday for a 145.

Easton Shades Bangor Hi 4-2

BANGOR — Bangor High School jumped to a 2-0 first-inning lead but couldn't hold it and dropped a 4-2 exhibition baseball game to Easton High Friday. It was the Slaters' opening game.

It was Easton's second straight win and today, the Rovers shoot for number three, when they meet East Stroudsburg at East Stroudsburg Play-ground at 1:30.

Cavalier coach Jim Werkheiser listed the following lineup for his club's opener: Bill Trussinger, ss; Tom Talasz, 2b; Harold Myers, cf; Vic Michaels, rf; Brian Farris, 3b; Jack Vineyard, c; Jim Steele, lf; Budd Stann, 1b and Don Westcott, p.

Pad Line-ups

Bangor used 18 players but managed only two hits and only one of them after the first inning. Easton had 15 men in the game and came up with seven hits. There were only two extra base hits, both doubles. Russ Arms had one for Easton and Denny Holland's two-bagger in the first inning, drove in both Bangor scores.

Only three of the six runs scored were earned and there were 17 strikeouts recorded as the pitchers held the upper hand.

Leo Reimer, the second of three Bangor pitchers, was gassed with the loss. He gave up five hits and two runs in three innings. Ken Smith worked the first three innings for Bangor, allowing two hits and one run. S. Heard tossed the final inning.

Tony Piperato, who relieved starter Tom Koch in the fourth inning, was credited with the win. Piperato allowed only one hit and fanned seven.

Reimer's Walk

Bangor jumped on Koch for two quick runs in the first. Leo Reimer walked and his cousin Ben Reimer followed suit. Smith's long fly ball that was caught, advanced the runners to second and third and

Idea Of Burning Forests To Save Deer Seen Fallacy

THERE are some people in the area who have their minds set on burning the forests this year so that the deer will have food during the next winter, Service Forester Jacob Kintz said last night.

He added, "The whole idea is a fallacy. The burning of the woods will not only destroy food now available but the potential food during the time of need next winter."

Fire will not only destroy the regeneration of wild life and forest cover. It will kill the new born animals such as deer, rabbit as well as the unborn birds still in the nests.

It will destroy the seedlings which provide the necessary food for the wild animals. The "leaf litter layer" that acts as a sponge to soak up rainfall and prevent floods and at the same time destroy the organic matter and expose the raw soil.

burned over only a small portion of the new growth is eaten by the animals.

"The thing to do," said Kintz, "is to participate in the Selective Timber Stand Improvement program." This program includes the removal of the poorer species of trees in the area which in turn provides better growing conditions for valuable timber species.

The Federal government cooperates in this program in a cost share basis per acre. The government pays $19.20 per acre, on a basis of $24 per acre, to those participating in the program.

For more information on this program individuals and clubs interested in participation should contact Pennsylvania Dept. of Forests and Waters, 1081 W. Main St., Stroudsburg, or phone HA 1-8500.

Very Little Browse

Forest fires produce very little browse. "This has been proven in a 10 year study by the state in various burned areas," Kintz added.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars, for

SATURDAY, APRIL 8, 1961
March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—A dilemma is often of our own making. It can be resolved, solved through reasoning, study, discourse, appreciation of others' rights and views. But stand firmly by principles.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)—Revolve only if it is truly necessary; try to make careful decisions so that you will not be regretted. Remedies are available for this, but those inside our souls we must treat from within.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)—Day can be a tonic to yourself and those about you if you display Gemini's rare gifts of humor mixed with practical sense and good timing. Be sure sarcasm is used only when you can, being congenial without being imposed upon, you will find day very worthwhile, interesting.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Begin on time whatever chores and duties are ahead of you. Do not let your energy be dissipated by what you can, being congenial without being imposed upon, you will find day very worthwhile, interesting.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—Haste must not be confused with speed. In speeding up tempo to attain sufficient advantages and points to keep up with due activities, work and affairs. Take impulsive remarks, acts.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—Mercury in today's strong favorable position also reminds you that not everyone has the smooth disposition, cool head, and calm. So skill plus tolerance and tact will do the trick.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Take care in domestic and friendship matters not to cause friction or aggravate a situation (many others have begun). The thicker outfits when he uses facilities well.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio)—Instructors, managers, teachers, lecturers, students, researchers, Gov't leaders and workers in more practical activity should see an efficient work, with your same help, and smiles.

November 24 to December 23 (Sagittarius)—Jupiter favors long range plans and personableness. Also getting to the root of matters so that proper decisions can be made for future. Good work WILL pay.

December 24 to January 19 (Capricorn)—May be difficult to concentrate or have continuity now. But maintain poise, dignity, and faith in well-made plans and things will strengthen out. In judgments; Conscientiousness!

January 20 to February 19 (Aquarius)—Money, strategy, accuracy, important. Don't let your better convictions be overruled by majority. Rejoice in the wonders of nature, your mentality thrives on their stimulation.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces)—Neptune's aspect indicates you put up a guard against careless (in anything), be cautious in company, and not so active you tire before weekend and have over.

YOU BORN TODAY, of Aries, the Head, or First, Zodiacal Sign, can boast that you won't of personableness, quickly wit, intelligent pastimes (if properly reared, and if you continue developing along high principled, learned routes). You like to be with bright, outgoing people, should be. Do not become involved in mix-ups others create. Could be inefficient in languages, outdoor skills, statesmanship. You can follow whatever suits your fancy. If you remain steadily at it, not scattering energies, aims, keep fit, eat plain foods generally, control emotions. Government Asks Injunction

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—The government has asked for an injunction to stop Greater Buffalo Press Inc. from moving work and machinery from its Wilkes-Barre, Pa., subsidiary until an anti-trust suit is settled.

Arguments on the injunction are slated for April 19.

A civil anti-trust suit filed in January charged Greater Buffalo Press and five other firms with an illegal monopoly in the $28 million-a-year newspaper color comic supplement printing industry.

An attorney for Greater Buffalo Press said a temporary restraining order, and the temporary injunction, are based on the government's desire to maintain the status quo until the anti-trust suit is settled.

The Wilkes-Barre firm involved is International Color Printing Co. The government declined comment.

Two Demos Back Harness Track

NEWTOWN SQUARE, Pa. (AP) — The two Democratic members of the Pennsylvania Harness Racing Commission said Friday issuance of a license to Liberty Bell Racing Association was made on the merits of the group's application.

A joint statement by Commissioners Edward Kane and Martin Cusick was issued in reply to charges by commission Chairman Lawrence Sheppard, who opposed the Liberty Bell license.

Kane, speaking from his home here, said the statement answered an allegation by Sheppard that he and Cusick were issuing a license "on a deal."

Liberty Bell is headed by James P. Clark, Philadelphia Democratic finance chairman and an associate of Rep. William J. Green, city Democratic chairman. Sheppard is a Republican, the others Democrats.

The statement by the two commissioners said Liberty Bell was the only applicant from Philadelphia County and "has shown unquestionable ability to perform."

More Than One
In other counties where harness racing and parimutuel betting has been approved, the statement said, more than one qualified group has applied for a license.

Sheppard charged that granting a license to the Clark group would result in a monopoly. He said Clark's group plans to operate a track for 30 days, and then lease for another 50 to the Bucks County Racing Association.

Kane and Cusick said Sheppard was told of their decision and the reasons for it in advance of the license granting session last Tuesday in Harrisburg. They said Sheppard, Hanover shoe manufacturer and horse breeder, "always has declared a willingness to grant a license to the fully qualified Liberty Bell Racing Association."

But, said Kane in amplifying the statement, he didn't understand that Sheppard was conditioning this willingness on any promise by the other two commissioners to approve any other of the 10 Greater Philadelphia applications at the same time.

Kane said such an agreement would be a "deal."

Surviving in addition to her husband and parents, who live in Cresco, are a son, John Russell Frable, Jr., at home; two sisters, Bessie and Marie Elwine, East Stroudsburg; and two brothers, Walter Elwine, serving with the U. S. Marines, and James Elwine, Saylorsburg.

Private funeral services will be at 3 p.m. Monday in the Kresge Funeral Home, Brodheadsville.

Interment will be in the Blue Ridge Cemetery, McElhenny.

There will be no visitation.

Fail In Bid To Extradite

MEDIA, Pa. (AP) — A West Virginia sheriff and state policeman came here Friday in an unsuccessful attempt to extradite two men to that state where they are wanted for stealing a cigarette lighter and a deck of playing cards.

Following the 7 1/2 hour trip here, Sheriff J. M. Buckbee of Hampshire County and trooper Thomas Cudde started a 7 1/2 hour trip back, empty handed.

They told Judge John V. Diggins in Delaware County Court that Ray Cross, 21, and his brother-in-law, Paul Marley, 19, both of Chester, had taken the items from a hunting lodge in Hanging Rock.

Diggins postponed a decision until the end of the month, asserting he hoped a settlement would be reached before then.

The value of the stolen items was not disclosed.

Tongay In Seclusion In Monastery

VINA, Calif. (AP) — Russell Tongay was in seclusion at a Trappist monastery here Friday contemplating his future.

While in a Florida prison, serving a sentence for manslaughter in the death of his daughter, Kathy, 5, Tongay had said he wanted to join the Trappist order.

And when released from Florida State Prison on March 31, he came directly to the remote monastery in this little Northern California hamlet, arriving Thursday.

A spokesman for the monastery now says Tongay "definitely will not be entering our community here or any other community of our order."

"He is here as a guest and will spend two weeks at the monastery trying to get oriented, to figure out what he is going to do with his life in the future."

Tongay was released from prison after serving six years of his 10-year sentence.

A one-time swimming instructor, Tongay had traveled the country with his children whom he billed as the "Aquatots." Kathy, however, died after a 33-foot high dive in 1953 and at his trial in Miami, Tongay was sent to prison.

Shrine To Host Youngsters

THE POCONO Shrine Club will play host today to a group of area youngsters (ages 6 to 13) at the Irem Temple Shrine circuit being held at Kingston Armory, Kingston.

This is one of the many activities the club sponsors. This event has been carried out for the past fifteen years. Young representatives from nearly all parts of the county will be included in the group.

Harold Everett of Effort is president of the local shrine club. He is assisted in this program by Maurice Kanipey, Jay Shoemaker and Billy Sunday.

The transportation is under the supervision of Les Drake.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Officials of two railroads and city solicitor David Berger said Friday there was no reason to believe an inter-county transit system would become a haven for patronage and politicking.

The commissioners of Montgomery County said Thursday they agree in principle with a report urging their county to stay out of Philadelphia's commuter program because of the danger politics would enter.

The transit program is run by a non-profit organization, Passenger Service Improvement Corp. The city government, the Pennsylvania and Reading Railroads are members.

The program is designed to improve commuter service between Philadelphia and suburban communities.

"We have granted many extensions of orders since we began the program of bringing our State schools up to reasonable fire and other safety standards. Some of the orders date back to 1959. We must now impose a cutoff date or be remiss in our responsibilities."

The industrial Board is headed by William L. Batt, Jr., Secretary of Labor and Industry. Other members are Mrs. Collins; Harry Lautman, of Philadelphia, representing labor; Moe Stagle, of Johnstown, representing business, industry, and Joseph H. Sabel, of Pittsburgh, representing the public.

"The Liquor Code now permits a retail licensee to operate on Daylight Saving Time provided that time is being generally observed in the community," Mr. Kerwin said. "Although a licensee is permitted to begin sales of alcoholic beverages one hour earlier, he is also required to cease such sales one hour earlier."

Kerwin said that a licensee who desires to operate on Daylight Saving Time, must not notify the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board in Harrisburg by letter signed by the licensee.

CLEARFIELD, Pa. (AP) — Curtis-Wright Corp., has agreed to permit public fishing in streams on its land in the Quehanna area of Clearfield County.

Some 40 miles of streams will be opened for the first time from June 1 to Sept. 14.

This was disclosed here Thursday night by Albert M. Day, executive director of the Pennsylvania Fish Commission.

Curtis-Wright took over 53,000 acres of land in 1955. With the exception of Meaker Run Creek, all other streams will be opened. Meaker Creek is posted for security reasons.
